Trailer 2

[CLICK, AS THE RADIO STATION TURNS ON. FUZZ, FADING AWAY]

KASS. -this technology. Where are the touch pads? (sigh) Nothing about this building - no, this whole island actually! Nothing about this island makes any sense.

[STATIC AND CLICKS AS KASS FIDDLES WITH BUTTONS, DIALS]

KASS. There sure are a lot of buttons. Doesn't seem to be doing anything though.

[MORE CLICKS]

KASS. (wry) With my luck, one of them is big, red, and clearly labelled "do not touch", only I can't see it.

KASS. Y'know frankly, if I blow the world up, it's the fault of whoever designed this place like, really, no braille?

KASS. I mean, not that I can read braille, yet. But it would have been a good thought.

KASS. (groan) Ghosts, look at me. (laugh) Talking to a... button room. In a weird, offtech building. On an island that shouldn't exist. You know, not that I- oh, weird. What-what are these things?

[ELECTRIC SHOCK SOUND]

KASS. (sound of pain) Ahh! Just my luck, this place hates me.

[SOUND OF KASS DROPPING THE WIRE TUBES AFTER THE SHOUT.
BEAT, FOLLOWED BY A SOFT WHIRRING NOISE]

KASS. Um are you... trying to communicate?

[WHIRRING INTENSIFIES]

KASS. Are you an AI? Well I guess it doesn't matter, really. Um, do you want me to do something with the uh... long metal tubes? If that's what they are.

[PAUSE]

KASS. Nothing? Alright, maybe not a sentient building.

[ELECTRIC SHOCK SOUND]

KASS. (gasp) Okay, okay just uh! Show your code already, I don't know what you want from me!

KASS. Alright, you know what? I'm gonna try it. This won't work, but let me just-

[TWO CLICKS, AS KASS PLUGS INTO THE STATION]

KASS. (gasp) ...oh. Wow. I-I can... I can see. Not like with bionics but it... it's less of a see and more of a sense. I guess the station is sentient, or something.

KASS. Station? St-- how did I... is--are you telling me things?

KASS. It's... it's weird, it's not like you're talking to me, I just... know. They're in my head. (laughing) I guess eyes really are the windows to the soul.

KASS. On air? I'm sitting down, actually. In a chair. It's not very comfortable.

KASS. Oh, broadcasting? Um like, like video, and feeds? No, I know there's no video. How then am I...

KASS. What's radio?

[BROADCAST ENDS AS KASS PUSHES A BUTTON.]
